

READING

Location, location, location.

The venue for business

The defacto capital of the Thames Valley, Reading is one of the best located business centres in the UK. Just 22 minutes from London direct on the Great Western Mainline as well as connected directly with central London, the City and Docklands on the new Elizabeth Line, Reading can be reached direct from over 250 locations by rail. Reading is also located on the M4 and is easily accessible from Heathrow Airport by road and rail.

With meeting spaces from small groups up to conferences for 700 people, Reading's venues will meet your business needs. Choose from dedicated conference venues or business hotels in the town centre just a short walk from Reading Station or business hotels and conference centres located near Junction 11 of the M4. All boast a wide range of high-quality meeting spaces and facilities.

Reading is one of the most vibrant economies in the UK. You'll find major business brands here – from Microsoft to Virgin Media, Bayer to PepsiCo, Thales to SSE, as well as the new international centres for film production.

Reading's day rates, room rates and venue fees compare very favourably with those in nearby London, making Reading an excellent value alternative to the capital. And with River Thames trips, great shopping, a vibrant nightlife, a wide range of dining options, surprising heritage going back 900 years and plentiful green space, Reading will also keep your delegates entertained beyond the meeting room.
